Engineering Technician Apprenticeship at Bentley

LB Bentley have a robust Apprenticeship Programme in place and have a number of different types of apprentices throughout the business.

We are currently looking for three Engineering Technician Apprentices to start their apprenticeship in September 2021. This is a four-year apprenticeship with the first year being full time with a Gloucester based training provider, and the subsequent years learning in our manufacturing facility based in Stroud, with additional specialist college based training and learning.

We are looking for a minimum of five GCSE, level 4 or above, in Maths, English and Science (plus 2 more subjects). The candidate must have a strong aptitude for maths with an interest in finding out how things work.

For more information on our Apprenticeship Programme please contact:

Accessing New Subjects Conference + other IAG updates for our year 12 students

Lancaster University are hosting an Accessing New Subjects Conference. Lancaster University, in conjunction with the Universities of Bath, Exeter and Warwick and Cardiff University, will be offering Year 12 students the opportunity to explore their options for higher education and experience subjects they may not have yet considered.

Our English Literature department and the Lancaster University Management School will be delivering talks; students will also be able to find out more about studying Medicine, Engineering, Law, Biosciences and more (please note this may be subject to change).

Students can sign up to the event, 8th May at 1:00pm, here.

I also have some exciting events and updates from Lancaster University to share with you.

Applicant events

For those who have already applied to Lancaster, they can join our Applicant Afternoons to find out more about student support, culture and religion at Lancaster and more. These will be taking place on 11th and 18th May, and 1st and 8th June. Students can also access our Unibuddy Live sessions on 20th and 27th May, and 3rd June to ask our student ambassadors any questions about studying with Lancaster. Students can sign up to all these events here.

Lancaster Diaries

Lancaster Diaries is our new podcast! Students can tune in to hear current Lancaster students offer their advice, experiences and personal reflections on their education experience. In our first episode, we interview Ariana and Emily on studying during the pandemic, A Level cancellations and results day. Lancaster Diaries is available here.

Supporters' sessions

We are continuing our webinars specifically for parents, carers, guardians and other supporters throughout the academic year. The next will be Choosing a Course and Place for Supporters (12th May). The series of events can be found here.

NHS Virtual Work Experience on the 6th June

We are pleased to inform you that the Allied Healthcare Work Experience ran successfully at the weekend and all of the students who participated will be issued with Certificates on Wednesday.

During the session, students were informed to mark their attendance on an attendance form to verify that they were present and the form also asked for permission to share certificates with their teachers. If your students agreed, we will be sending you copies of the certificates so that you can keep track of which students have completed their virtual work experience with us.

We are awarding students who complete the full 6 month programme, with highly commended references in order to acknowledge the most committed students from the work experience cohort that we have this year.

If you have any questions about the programme, or you are unsure if your students are already participating, you can contact the admin team using the enquiry form below and they will be happy to assist.

In the meantime, please kindly remind your students that the next NHS Virtual Work Experience day is June 6th. It will cover all of the specialties below and students will be able to register places at this link: <https://alliedhealthmentor.org/nhs-healthcare-careers-virtual-work-experience/>

Careers that will be showcased on June 6th:

Cardiff University newsletter

We are often asked what the 2021/22 academic year will look like here in Cardiff so we wanted to provide the following update which we hope will be useful to you and your students.

We will also be hosting a dedicated teacher' and career advisers' session to offer you the opportunity to ask any follow-up questions that you may have and to offer an insight into this year's undergraduate admissions:

Teacher and Career Advisers' session – Ask the Expert

Join our Head of Admissions on Wednesday 26th May (5pm – 6pm) for an update on undergraduate admissions at Cardiff University as well as taking a look at the impact the pandemic is expected to have on this year's cycle. If you are also wondering what university life has been like in the past year, we will be joined by our current students who will provide an insight into their experiences as well as sharing their thoughts on what they wish they had known in sixth form when applying to higher education. From our approach to the summer results period (including clearing) to the support available to students as they transition to from school to university, we know you are likely to have lots of questions so, to round off the session, our speakers will be joined on the panel by our Head of UK Student Recruitment and Transition Manager who will be on hand to provide answers to the questions you may have. Book your place using our Welsh or English registration form.

What will the 2021/22 academic year look like?

We hope that by September 2021, teaching and student life on campus will have returned to a more 'normal' position with the campus open and the return of face-to-face teaching for our tutorials, lab work and workshops. It may be the case that large lectures continue to be delivered online to ensure the health and safety of our students and staff, which is always our biggest priority. We continue to work closely with the Welsh Government and Public Health Wales to ensure our campus is fully safe and secure based on current advice and guidance. We will also continue to make full use of all of the teaching innovations that learning online brought us this year, to supplement the learning experience.

If your students are holding an offer to study with us, they will be kept fully up to date with the campus situation and any changes which we need to make which may affect them. The latest information and advice can be found on our website.

We hope you can join us on Wednesday 26th May but if you have any questions in the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact us at schools@cardiff.ac.uk.

Best wishes,

Cardiff University Schools and Colleges Liaison Team

ONLINE TALKS FOR PARENTS &
SUPPORTERS
TUESDAY 8 JUNE - THURSDAY 10 JUNE

Due to their continuing popularity with students, we are happy to announce we will now be running our range of live online talks with Q&A, via Zoom, for parents and supporters of students this June!

Registration is now open and instructions on how they can register onto these sessions can be found below.

We would really appreciate it if could please forward this email on to the parents and supporters of students who are in Year 11 onwards.

ZOOM Q&A SESSIONS

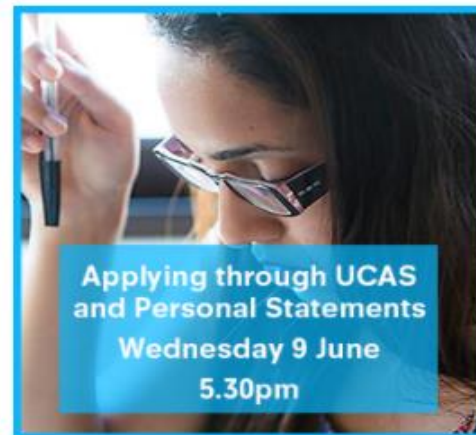

Please see below the dates and times of the sessions we are running this June. These talks aim to give parents and supporters insight and advice into Higher Education, with each session lasting approximately one hour.

To book a place, please click on the links below. You can attend as many sessions as you wish.

The step into HE is a big one. This talk offers advice on how to choose the right course and university, giving tips on how to research different institutions effectively and where to find useful information.

We provide a step-by-step breakdown of the process, and give hints and tips to help you support students in constructing a successful personal statement and help them to start thinking about promoting their own skills and achievements.

Student funding is often a worry for prospective students. This talk offers advice regarding tuition fees, student loans, scholarships and the application process.

A link to access the chosen session(s) will follow before the talk. If a link has not been received 30 minutes before the session is due to start please email outreach@plymouth.ac.uk and a member of the team will be happy to help.

If there's anything further we can be of help with please get in touch by either calling +44(0)1752 585858 or dropping us an email at outreach@plymouth.ac.uk. You can also drop us a message on our Facebook page here.

Best wishes,
